

To: Tom Sewell
Fr: Joseph Foldin

January 24, 1984

Dear Tom:

Thank you very much for your invitation to submit an article for 'Main' magazine. I feel mentioned that upcoming issue is devoted entirely to citizen diplomacy.

Frankly, I did not know what to do: my opinion about this new kind of social creativity raised some interest because I melted words and actions of more-or-less comparable size (if "mirror for Humanity"; then it's natural to insist on live space-bridges between live, real crowds). But it is already written and it's unfair to speculate about it again, when you are facing ultimate barriers: ^{to talk about it.} bureaucracy and money. I prefer to have money, not

But during last 10 days another project emerged from hidden unconscious: I am sending to you couple ^{of my script proposal} pages, and if you interested, and give me fax or E-mail feedback, I'll develop it into something readable. The illustrations and interviews will be just one larger entry. Also I would be happy to invite you on this forthcoming ship-trip in May, and you would be natural choice to be a designer for our film crew. (Needless to say, if your journal would be published by this time, what a surprise it would be for everybody on our boat!

I think you'll find this spirit of our film very familiar to your lifestyle. And I am really happy to know that the whole issue is about us.

Let me hear from you
AHP

Joseph